

Make a major difference.

The AIM Clinics Fellowship program sets you up to be a pioneer in the field of autism therapy. Not only will you gain valuable clinical experience, a master's degree and a Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) credential, you'll bring life-changing services to underserved kids.

Challenge yourself. Be a powerful force for good for the people who need you most.

WHY AIM?

Our multidimensional approach offers you a more gratifying and complete education than you can find anywhere else.

PILLARS OF THE PROGRAM

Clinical excellence
Leadership
Real experience
Community

Get paid to learn.

We cover the costs of your graduate program while also paying you a salary, because a person can only live on ramen noodles for so long.

Be a pioneer in your industry.

We've brought our evidence-based practice to places and people who historically haven't had access—giving more children more opportunities to thrive.

Grow into a leadership role.

Every Fellow is a leader-in-training, and we weave leadership and professionalism into every stage of the program.

Get a well-rounded experience.

You'll reinforce what you learn about Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) in your studies with real-world experience in our clinics.

Work for a company that values you as a person.

We believe when we take care of you, you can better take care of our kids. Our goal is to help you thrive at AIM.

Get started today.

If you're ready to help kids with autism conquer tomorrow, then we're ready to talk.

We support you at every step.

Our goal isn't just to create leaders at AIM Clinics—it's to create the future leaders of our field. While you learn the science of Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) in your master's program, we'll support you with the real-world experience and direct instruction you need to become a Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA).

MONTHS 1-7

Clinical Trainee

Build your foundational knowledge and master the principles of ABA.

Work directly with kids under the supervision of a BCBA, while developing skills in leadership and data analysis.

MONTHS 8-14

Clinical Specialist

Reinforce foundational knowledge with practical application.

Begin to develop clinical skills such as clinical writing, behavior skills training and managing a team.

MONTHS 15-19

Case Manager

Begin managing a small caseload and learn how to lead a team.

Oversee and lead the enrollment and treatment of a small caseload of clients while managing a team of RBTs.

MONTHS 20+

First-Year BCBA

Build toward independence and leadership.

Strengthen your case management and leadership skills with a full network of CBAs supporting you every step of the way.

Timeline varies based on academic coursework sequence and competency level.

“I am getting such an incredible variety of experiences that I know my peers at school are not receiving through their fieldwork placement.”

About AIM Clinics

Autism in Motion Clinics supports and inspires children with autism, their families and our community. We use Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) therapy to redefine what living with autism means. We've brought ABA to places it's never been available and transformed the story of autism for the kids and families we serve. Because autism defines a disorder. Not a person.
